TO MY GRAY HAIRS

Read at the New York Alumni Dinner, January 3, 1920.

The silver threads come one by one,
The brown they'll soon replace —
To everything beneath the sun,
Variety lends grace.

At first we deemed it rarest fun
To glean one, white and bold,
But now they show sixteen to one—
A standard true as gold.

I often thought, when but a boy,
That gray hairs meant old age,
But now I know they just alloy
The brown, and mark the sage.

And I remember how I used
To smile at snow-white heads,
Or even where the gold were fused
With silver colored threads.

But lo! I worship at a shrine
Of dark and silver gray—
My wife—she tore a pearly line
From her dark locks today.

I would not pluck these silver strains
Nor speak regret, nor sigh,
For worldly wealth is found in veins
Where gold and silver lie.

And so I welcome one by one
These first gray hairs of mine,
And pray that 'ere my race is run,
They may the whole refine.

—Willis Boughton.

AULD LANG SYNE

Sixty Years Within Sound of the Ohio
University Bell

By Mrs. D. J. Evans

In Athens my favorite playmate was Alice, daughter of Professor Blair of the chair of science. We two little girls were given the freedom of the home and of the museum in the west wing of which Dr. Blair was curator. I shall never forget a fright I once had in the museum. One day we opened the door of what seemed to be a wardrobe, and there hanging was—not the expected garments—but a human skeleton. Oh, my!

A great, and the first poignant grief of my life was the death of Alice when we were nine years old. She was stricken with diphtheria a few hours from the time I left her after spending many hours in play with her. My welcome to the home after the death of my little friend was cordial and it was my lot to be there when Dr. Blair purchased a piano, the first brought to an Athens home, and it is still a highly prized relic in the home of an older daughter in Parkersburg.

Not long after the death of Alice, the Blair home was again stricken, their young son, Preston, was drowned in the Hocking river.

A little before this, a still greater affliction fell upon the home of President Howard in the death, by drowning in the river, of their only son.

The majority of the students who came to our home when I was a child were members of the Philo Society. In those days it was the rule to elect to the presidency of the society only seniors, except the term covering the last part of the spring year. That term the president was either a junior or a very promising sophomore. The reason was this: In those days the societies awarded their seniors with diplomas, and the seniors desired the diplomas signed by some one who apparently would win distinction in time to come.

Of course, I was glad in my childhood when I knew my favorite students had been chosen for the presidency, and later when my brothers and friends were so honored. Nor did I lose interest, and indeed my joy was great when I learned one of my sons was elected to the presidency of the Philo society while in his early teens. Thus you can see that I have always been at heart a Philo. I have always rejoiced when the judges on contest brought in the verdict that Spartan valor had vanquished Attic eloquence. And even today, I feel a little gladder when I learn that the Philos have come out ahead.

I have mentioned names of people of whom most of you have never heard. And I could name many more whom I greatly admired when I was a little lass. And some who probably never knew me, and I want to call attention to a fact and emphasize it, that there is a closer connection between our town and gown than people generally realize.

There has never a class gone from the Ohio University but some boy in town believed one member, at least, a hero, and whose career was watched with interest. Don't imagine young men and young women of the university that you are not cynosures of some ambitious boy or girl, and keen will be their disappointment if their idol falls below their rating by some unworthy act in college, or by a career outside that recognizes no high ideal.

Thus my life has been lived within the sound of the college bell, and very sweet have been its tones to me; while I was a girl it summoned to the college halls my teachers, my brothers, my lover, and, in later years, my sons and daughter, and I hope to hear it in days to come calling my grandchildren to same college halls.

Do you wonder that I love the old Ohio University and rejoice in its career, since it has been and is so great a part of my life? For over sixty years I have had a personal interest in it as it has conferred degrees on my favorite teachers, cousins, brothers, nephews, husband and children, and especially as my husband is holding in it, the longest professorship in the history of the institution.

It was a rare treat to the faculty and students to have the teams of the Inter-Church World Movement spend three days in March on the campus. The meetings were all of a high order. The addresses were uplifting. We can especially refer to those of Dr. Harry F. Ward and Dr. Cyril Haas.

DE ALUMNIS

'83—"Number Four is certainly a corker. I inclose check." This is the way Dr. William D. Porter puts it from Cincinnati.

'99—Stella I. Koons can still be found at 211 West Seventy-First St., Cincinnati, where she has taught for some time.

'01—B. L. Horn has been offered a place with the Y. M. C. A. at a good salary. His work would take him to Poland. During the war Mr. Horn went "across" in a similar capacity and won the approval of his superiors for efficient service rendered.

'02—May S. Conner, Cincinnati, is one of the alumni who found it difficult to keep away from the Founders' Day exercises. She sent her greetings and was with us in spirit.

'08—H. W. Lewer, so far as the office knows, is the only alumnus in Canada, being located at Lethbridge, Alberta. He wants to know if there are any other Ohio University folks in that region. If there are, he intends to form an Ohio University Association. He says distances do not count. Can any one help him out?

'11—Carl L. Tewksbury, who was discharged from the army last November, has been located in Pittsburgh since the first of the year as treasurer of the Kelcher Company, manufacturers of automobiles.

'11—During the recent session of the legislature when the revenue measure was under consideration for an increase of teachers' salaries, our own Frederick C. Landsittel demonstrated his ability as an expert on school revenues. He wrote the bill, which was accepted without a single dissenting vote.

'12—Harry L. Ridenour, Berea, O., has had his troubles this winter. First his wife became ill and had to undergo an operation in a Cleveland hospital. Then the "flu" got him and put him on his back. Some complications developed and an operation was found necessary. Not satisfied with this, after an interval of two weeks, something else got hold of him and the surgeon came around again on Founders' Day. "I could not even send greetings," he writes. "But," he continues, "You may be sure that my good wishes were with you. I am very glad for the Renaissance of the older spirit, the spirit of some years ago, when we knew where all the alumni were, and what they were doing, when the old grads were urged and invited to come back to the dear old campus, and they came. I think that big things are in store for Ohio University."

'12—Bessie M. Gorslene teaches English and French in the New Straitsville High School.

'12—Marguerite Sutherland is director of the Art Department in the Warren Schools.

'13—John M. Henry is a member of the faculty of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He is in the department of Commerce.

'13—H. C. Fisher is a lieutenant in the United States Navy and is located in Key West, Florida.

'13—Ira A. McDaniel has been sent by the Goodyear Rubber Company to Danielson, Conn., where he will have charge of certain statistical work at one of the cotton mills owned by that company.

'13—Ola A. Strong "comes across" from Berlin Center, Ohio.

'14—Mac S. Bethel, who is with the Maynard H. Murch Company, of Cleveland, is another alumnus who was prevented from being with us on Founders' Day. However, he sent a check for The Bulletin, his greetings for a good time, and his well wishes for the success of The Bulletin and the alumni organization.

'15—Louis Foley and wife left last October for Turkey, to do relief work with headquarters at Constantinople.

'16—Clara Schieber is engaged in post-graduate work at Clark University, where she is studying for her doctorate.

'16—Edith M. Stoker, Kenmore, Ohio, recently gave a very interesting talk before the Summit County Teachers' Institute.

'16—W. E. McVey, before the close of his first year's service as principal of the High School at Harvey, Illinois, has had an increase of salary to $4000 a year.

'16—Arthur T. Amerine has resigned his position as principal of the Hamilton Township High School of Franklin County to accept a position as science teacher in the Douglas School of Columbus. The new position carries a very attractive salary.

'17—Rachael Higgins, daughter of Dr. Charles E. Higgins, '87, of Zanesville, is one of the teachers in the Marietta schools.

'17—Mabel Rhoades sends association fee, "sincere regards" to, and "hopes" for the Alumni Association's success from Columbus.

'17—Ethel Bates, who is in the Cardington, Ohio schools, writes as follows: "Several of our seniors intend enrolling as students in Ohio University next year and you may be sure I am in a 'small way' responsible for this decision."

'18—Edna Arundel is teaching in the Primary Department of the Iron-ton schools.

'18—Gertrude M. Remington is located at Norwalk, Ohio.

'18—LeVaughn Van Scoyoc sends her fee and congratulations for The Bulletin from Pierpont, Ohio.

'18—Word comes to the office through Luna A. March, Sabina, Ohio, that Mary A. Rapp ('11) that was, is now Mrs. Raymond Leadbetter and she lives near Sabina.

'18—Violet Jane Patterson is one of the corps of teachers in the New Philadelphia High School.

'19—Marie L. Voigt is one of the Ohio University colony located in the Clarksburg, W. Va., school system.

OHIO UNIVERSITY CRADLE ROLL

Class of 1942

Softly the angels come winging, singing,
Bring to longing arms
The dear little dream-child, so hoped for,
With all its baby charms.

Welcome, beloved, lent to us
By the dear God above;
We will cherish thee, keep thee 'til called for
By the Heart of eternal love.

May life bring to you its blessings,
Through you may others be blessed;
Dear heart, sweetheart,
May life yield to you its best.

OUR MAIL BOX

JOE HARLOR, '94,

1851 Charles Road, East Cleveland, O.

"I had hoped to be in Athens this week, but 'county ad'ptions' claim my time. The best thing I can say is 'Please find enclosed.'"

U. M. McCAUGHEY, '95

879 Elmore Ave., Akron, Ohio

"I enclose currency to help out on The Bulletin. I have talked with a number of former students about the formation of an association here, and all have agreed to it thus far. One of the men has written to you for a list of those who live near here.

"I hope you have a great time on the 17th and 18th."

GARLAND A. BRICKER, '18,

President State School of Science,
Wahpeton, N. D.

"Enclosed is my contribution to The Bulletin. The number just received was worth this much, as many of the old 'grads' have been re-discovered by its aid.

"I wish I could be there for Founders' Day. It certainly is a fine idea. May we not hope to continue to read about the traditions and experiences of the 'old-timers'—their pranks, even, are mighty good reading. Some day some of the old line 'Barbs' may be able to help out a little in this."

C. W. WAGGONER

730 University Terrace, Morgantown,
West Virginia

"I am writing to request a copy of the last Ohio Alumni Bulletin and to show my interest, I am enclosing my personal check for a year's subscription."

O. P. CLUTTS, '13,

425 West 114th Street, New York City

"I certainly was glad to get your letter, tho' it was somewhat belated. I was unable to attend the banquet.

"You said that you heard that I was married and that I was attending Columbia. Both facts are correct. My wife and I are both attending Columbia. She gets her M. A. in June. I got my M. A. in 1917. I am doing my year of residence here.

"I suppose things are much the same as they used to be at Ohio. Send me the Alumni Bulletin if it is being published."

W. S. BLACKSTONE, '07,

Care Republic Iron & Steel Co.,
Youngstown, Ohio

"Ohio University Alumni Bulletin just received. As a slight appreciation, am enclosing check to help you in continuing the publication.

"We are always interested in what is doing at the grand old Ohio University, and we are especially interested in those loyal friends, whom we made while we were there.

"Keep the good work going."

L. L. TAYLOR, '17,

Tuscarawas, Ohio

"Just finished devouring the last Alumni Bulletin, which reminded me that I had contributed nothing as yet to its publication, so am sending a check to help along a little. Certainly enjoy reading them and only wish they came much oftener.

"Yours for a better OHIO."

ZILLAH ATKINSON HIGH, '12,

Bucyrus, Ohio

"Enclosed please find a check for a very small amount in proportion to the pleasure I get from reading The Bulletin. It surely is a very pleasant reminder of old friends and the good time and the profitable lessons gotten at our Alma Mater.

"It was with great sorrow that I read of the death of Prof. Dunkle. A kinder or more gentle man I have never known. Prof. Evans and he surely help to form the 'Grand Old Guard' of Ohio University.

"With best wishes for the success of The Bulletin."

ELMER A. DENT, '88,

150 Fifth Ave., New York City

"Your last issue tastes like more. I am sending you a token of my appreciation. Please find check enclosed. Good success to you!"

W. K. LIM, '16,

727 Jefferson Avenue E, Detroit,
Michigan

"The Alumni Bulletin has never failed to reach me ever since its publication. I always read it with great interest. To me, receiving it is just like receiving a letter from my home folks. I wish to thank you very much for it.

"Some three or four days ago I sent you a small contribution for the Alumni work. Meagre though the amount is, I trust that it will not be taken as a means of judging my loyalty to the college.

At present I am attending the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery. Had it not been on account of some legal technicalities and requirements of the Michigan State Board of Registration in Medicine, I would in all probability receive my diploma this coming June. However, I am not altogether disappointed. I am waiting only for the lapse of four years since the day that I registered as a regular student at the college.

"Outside of going to college, I am the Department of Photomicrography, Photography and lantern slide preparatist working my way through school. I now have full charge of the Roentgenology Department of the Jefferson Clinic of the above address, where I am also a member of the staff.

"Last year I was made a member of the Pathology Department of the medical college, where I have charge of tion. In the same year I was elected assistant editor of the college monthly, official journal devoted to the interest of the alumni and students. This year I was again elected to assume the responsibility. I am not eligible to the editorship because I am not as yet a graduate of the college. However, am responsible for the publication of the journal in every respect.

"In whatever I do since I left the Ohio University, I always thank my Alma Mater for the early training and advantages she has given me during my career there.

"In closing please remember me to Dr. Ellis, Dean Chubb and Dr. Mercer. My best wishes to you. May the alumni work always spell success."

LOIS G. PEARCE, '15,

218 Cummins Avenue, Marion, Ohio

"The Ohio University Bulletins which I received last week have been read with pleasure and interest. They make me homesick to go back to Ohio University, which I hope to do some time.

"Have been teaching here in Marion since leaving Athens in 1915.

"Enclosed find check for Alumni Association. My best wishes for the success of the association."

ESTHER TAYLOR, '12,

McArthur, Ohio

"Eunice and I are each sending our contribution for the Alumni Bulletin. We are so glad that you are again our secretary, and are hoping that the organization will do wonders for Ohio University.

"The Bulletins are fine. I read every word, even the 'Entered at the Athens, Ohio, postoffice as Second Class Matter.'

"You will find here a few addresses of those who are in the 'lost' column of The Bulletin."

MARGARET DAVIS, '17,

Hostess House, Naval Base, Hampton Roads, Virginia

"I am enclosing a check for membership in the Alumni Association. I certainly do appreciate The Bulletin. It has been the means of putting me in touch with a number of Ohio University friends, whom I had lost track of during these last two years.

"You may be sure I am eagerly looking forward to my visit back home this coming commencement season. I have not had an opportunity to get back since I left in July, 1918. During that time I have been in Y. W. C. A. war work. First in Allentown, Pa., then in Hostess House work in Brooklyn, N. Y., in Quantico, Va., and now at the Naval Base, Hampton Roads, Va.

"It has been an intensely interesting work. Like most Hostess House workers, I feel that it has been an unusual privilege.

"Best wishes to Ohio University and her Alumni Association."

O. A. KNIGHT, '16,

409 Allen St., State College, Pa.

"I am sending you a small check to assist you in your good work of keeping up the Alumni Association.

After completing my work at Ohio University, I did a year of graduate work in the School of Mines and Metallurgy at Harvard University, after which I became employed with the Ordnance Department of the government at the Watertown arsenal, Watertown, Mass., and remained there in metallurgical work until January 1, 1919. At this date I came to State College as instructor of metallurgy of the Pennsylvania State College. During the summer vacation I was notified of an increase in rank to that of assistant professor, together with a substantial increase in salary.

"My work is thoroughly enjoyable and both Mrs. Knight and I are delighted with the location.

"Mrs. Knight (formerly Thirza E. Thomas, Class of 1918) and I wish to extend our heartiest greeting to our friends among the faculty and alumni of our Alma Mater."

MARIE HOLLETT, '18,

815 West Russell Place, San Antonio, Texas

"Enclosed find check for my contribution to the Alumni Association. I intended to send it on the first of January so as to start the New Year right, but another pay day slipped around before it was written.

"Have enjoyed The Bulletin immensely. It brings back familiar faces and makes me think of so many pleasant happenings at Ohio University. We have met many Ohioans here, but have not chanced to come across any Ohio University people.

"I enjoy my work and like our little city. It has many interesting features which make it popular with tourists."

J. H. BEVERIDGE, '97,

Superintendent of Instruction, Omaha,
Nebraska

"I am sending you a check for $5.00 for the work you are doing with the alumni publication. If you need more money let me know later. I want to see this matter made a success."

KATHARINE GOOLD MACARTNEY,
Ex-Student,

138 Prospect St., East Orange, N. J.

"To say that I enjoyed the New York dinner of the Ohio University alumni is a very mild way to express it. I really felt that evening that I was a school girl again and when I came home I said I knew I was years younger for having been there and seeing so many old friends.

"Was sorry we could not have had Professor and Mrs. Evans with us as our guests, but shall hope for that pleasure at another time.

"I am enclosing a check. Wish I could make it out for this amount for every year I feel younger for having attended the dinner, but I should be entirely bankrupt if I should.

"With best regards to any old Ohio University friends, and best wishes for the future of the Alumni Association, I am Most sincerely."

LORETTA V. BURNS, '12,
2211 Grandview Avenue, Cleveland
Heights, Ohio

"Enclosed you will find my subscription to the Alumni Bulletin. I was delighted to receive the copies which were sent to me. I sincerely hope that The Bulletin will have a real long life."

ROBERT S. BONE, '19
and

FREDERICA KASLER BONE, '19,
242 Fort Street Nelsonville, Ohio

"We have been receiving the Alumni Bulletin and certainly enjoy the news of alumni and the other items by alumni.

"Although we are not far from Athens, it is very hard to hear from our classmates except through The Bulletin.

"Enclosed find a contribution to the cause."

N. CONGER, '18,

Warren City Schools, Warren, Ohio

"Good news! I send my check.

"I don't know many of Ohio alumni but I enjoy hearing of those I do know. I am interested in them all. May the tribe increase."

NINA SCHWEFEL BALLARD,
Ex-Student,
8301 St. Martin's Lane, Chestnut Hill,
Pennsylvania

"Mr. Ballard and I have been much interested in the Ohio University Bulletin beginning with No. 1. It has given me great pleasure to pick up the names of old friends or of old friends' children to whom the names have been handed down. It is a little startling to see the generations succeeding each other so promptly even though we know that it is just that that makes life so interesting.

"The alumni dinner was a most enjoyable occasion. I have felt younger ever since for the renewal of old ties and the revival of memories that nothing else could have brought about. Who could have arranged it so well as Cal Humphrey or conducted it with such grace and spirit as Pearl McVay?

"I am enclosing a check for ten dollars for two memberships, Ellis Ames Ballard and Nina Schwefel Ballard. '84.

"We were interested to see the picture and notice of Mr. Ballard's uncle, Charles M. Walker, in the last Bulletin. It was very fitting that it should come so near the time of his death.

"With best wishes for the Ohio University and all its enterprises.

"Sincerely yours,"

FLORENCE HIBBS, '16,
Scio, Ohio

"Enclosed find one dollar for the Alumni Bulletin. I was very glad to receive the first four numbers and wish to thank you."

THE CHICAGO DINNER

Frank B. Kurtz was the moving spirit aided by such enthusiastic Ohio University folks as John Finnicum and Earl Logan. The place was Hotel LaSalle, Chicago, and the time Saturday evening, March 27. There was not a bit of disappointment anywhere along the line. The dinner was elegantly served and there was an ample amount of it. There was a coziness about the room that made everyone feel at ease. It was really an old-fashioned visit and folks who had never known one another before were soon chatting as if they had always been acquainted. There was music and good cheer throughout the evening. One guest was so enthusiastic as to say, "Why can we not get together oftener?"

There were thirty-four in attendance. Of course others might have attended and there was disappointment because of their absence. But it was a good starter and next year they are going to put on a "hummer," they say.

The list of those present is as follows: Professor and Mrs. John Snow, James L. Beck, Alumni Secretary C. L. Martzloff, Belle Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Lash, Mr. and Mrs. Upton G. Miller and Miss Janet Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Ashbaugh, Dr. William Bougher, Mrs. Lena Bougher Heyes, Mr. Ralph P. Dowd, Mrs. Mable Scott Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Scott, Mrs. Maud Scott Sepler, Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Logan, Mr. Frank B. Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. John Finnicum, Mr. Will Alderman, Mr. Allen M. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Root; Miss Edna Root, Mr. Warren Wolf, Mr. I. C. Meredith, Mr. P. J. Hunter, Mr. Louis D. Mahon and Mrs. L. V. Brown.

The speaking program was short and to the point. Finnicum presided and those who spoke were the Alumni Secretary, Professor Snow, "Will" Alderman and Mr. Guy Scott.

That the Chicago Association is to be permanent is indicated by the election of officers to arrange for next year's function. They chose Kurtz for president; Belle Bishop for secretary-treasurer. Finnicum, Snow and Logan for an executive committee.

Too much in praise of Frank Kurtz can not be said for the splendid way in which he put the whole affair across. It was he who first suggested the meeting. He put time and money unstintedly into it; he is to be congratulated. No more loyal alumnus than he can be found anywhere. It's a loyal bunch he has found in Chicago, and you need not be surprised to hear of great doings in that region.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK

The Commencement season is again hard upon us. Beginning with Sunday, June 13, with the baccalaureate address and ending with the class exercises on Thursday, June 17, the week will be crowded with good things that ought to attract many of our alumni back to the campus.

The complete program for the week is not now available. This much, however, can be stated. The baccalaureate address will be given by Dr. John Duncan Spaeth, professor of English, Princeton University; on Sunday evening the annual sermon by Rev. William L. Sawtelle, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Scranton, Pa.; Wednesday will be Alumni Day. On Thursday the class address will be delivered by Congressman I. M. Foster, '95.

On Alumni Day there will be two outstanding features. In the forenoon the chapel hour as usual will be given over to the Alumni Association. A good program will be arranged. There will be college songs, short speeches and the uncorking of a lot of Ohio University enthusiasm. At this time there will be a special ceremony—that of inducting the new class into the ranks of the alumni.

At the noon hour will be class reunions and luncheons to continue as long as they please. In the evening the Annual Alumni Banquet with everything that goes with it—except poor speeches, long speeches and late hours.

The local Alumni Association is setting out to take good care of visiting alumni. We are not promising what we are going to do to you or for you at this time. What we want to know is, how many of you are coming and when you will arrive. Do it now, and we will do the rest.

President Ellis, after a severe attack of the "flu" has returned to his desk in the administration building.

THE MEASURE OF A COLLEGE

It is interesting to note, in speaking of Alumni, the measuring-rod they apply to their Alma Mater. Those who wish to credit it for the influence it had on their lives never lack in material to defend their point; neither do those who seek to discredit it.

The other day a young chap just out of college made this statement as to the merits of a school and the test of alumni loyalty. He said: "After the boys are out of college for several years, they will like their schools just in proportion as they are enabled to make money or not."

The question arises, is this particular individual an exception, or is he a type? If he is one of a class there will be a lot of disappointed people in the world, a lot of disgruntled alumni, and a lot of discredited colleges. It is not given to every one to be a money maker. If one has the gift of acquisitiveness, he will acquire whether he has a college training or not. You do not have to have a college education in order to make money. There are many men who have amassed fortunes and were ignorant of all else. They obtained money, but their degrees can hardly be held responsible. They would not have been money makers without the degrees either. You can not make absolute comparisons; education is merely relative. You can only compare yourself with yourself as to what you might have been, either with it or without it.

A collegiate training can not nor should not be measured in terms of filthy lucre, essential as that is to a man's existence. If you have not been a money getter, don't blame your Alma Mater. You would be immeasurably poorer without what you received in college halls. Aye, poor indeed!

LITERARY ACTIVITIES

'15—De Forest Murch, in addition to editing a live Sunday School paper with an enormous circulation, finds time to do other literary work which meets with a hearty reception. A "Pocket Manual of Endeavor," prepared for the Christian Endeavor organization has enjoyed a phenomenal sale, reaching into the thousands of copies.

Another publication, "Christian Endeavor Publicity," is a collaboration, finding a generous response from those interested in that kind of Christian work.

'07—The editor of The Bulletin has been invited to prepare a paper to be read at the meeting of the Ohio Valley Historical Association, to be held in Columbus, Ohio, next October. The subject is "Ohio University's Contribution to the World War."

'12—Prof. P. W. Fattig has added another number to his series of "Project Study Outlines," which he is preparing for the University of Florida. This new publication is on "Sweet Potato Growing." Prof. Fattig was a campus visitor in February. He reports great interest in his Florida work and his Ohio friends are glad.

NEWLYWEDS

The daily press carries the news of the marriage of Miss Mabel Pipes, '15, a teacher in East Cleveland, to Mr. Perry D. Caldwell of that city. Mr. Caldwell is chairman of the public utilities committee of the city council. Mrs. Caldwell's home was in Delaware, where the marriage ceremony was performed on March 6, 1920.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

'96—Prof. C. M. Copeland is listed these days among those who are not well. For several months he has not been in the best of health. He is now trying to regain strength by a much needed and well earned rest.

A NEW ASSOCIATION

By the time the April Bulletin reaches its readers the newly organized Youngstown Alumni Association will have passed into history. At this time the affair promises to be quite successful. Already more than a hundred have signified their intention to be present. Superintendent W. M. Courson of East Youngstown, has taken the initiative and is directing the arrangements.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT

WILLIAM THOMAS MORGAN,
Class of 1909

At the recent meeting of the American Historical Association at Cleveland, Ohio, the announcement was made that Prof. W. T. Morgan, of the Department of History, Indiana University, had been awarded the Herbert Baxter Adams prize of two hundred dollars. This prize is given each alternate year for the best monograph on a subject in European History written by younger men who have not as yet established their reputation as historical writers.

In the contest there were thirty-two manuscripts submitted. It is certainly a fine compliment to Professor Morgan that he should have won the place among so many competitors.

The subject of the successful monograph bears the caption, "Political Leaders and Political Parties in the Reign of Queen Anne, 1702-1710."

Here's to you, "Tommy"!

THE REUNION CLASSES FOR 1920

As customary, the "twenty year" class will furnish the Alumni speaker for the coming June Commencement. The executive committee has selected

Mrs. Arwilla MacLane Pugh of Toledo, for this service. The other members of the class were: Harry R. Bahrman, died February 5, 1916; Cecil Roy Cline, Athens; William I. Crane, Rev. Rochester Irwin, Charles M. Matheny, Scottsbluff, Neb.; Laura M. Hastings, died August 12, 1915; Thomas H. Sheldon, Denver, Colo.; Mabel Zoe Wilson, Spokane, Wash.

The other classes that always aim to gather on the campus during the Commencement Week are the "ten year" classes. For 1920 these would be the classes of 1910, 1890, 1880, 1870.

The living members of these classes are:

1870—Dr. Philip Zenner, 2947 Gilbert Avenue, Cincinnati; John T. Duff, Newcomerstown.

1880—Rev. Thomas M. Ricketts, Commercial Point; Wilber Colvin, Fayetteville, Ga.; James E. Kinnison, Jackson.

1890—Herbert R. McVay, Sidney; John M. Johnson, Huntington, W. Va.; Sidney H. Johnson, Trimble; Daniel W. McGlenen, Chagrin Falls; Dr. Ralph P. Dowd, Fisher, Ill.

1910—Lou E. Andrew, Mundew, Clouster; Harold E. Cherrington, The Normandie, Columbus, Ohio; Paul E. Cromer, Urbana; Herbert Dunkle, 132 Hunsford St., Hartwell, Cincinnati; Charles E. Hayden, 108 Irving Place, Ithaca, N. Y.; Madge Lindsay, 205 Ninth St., N. E., Canton; Louise King Walls Austin, 4512 Watterson St., Madisonville, Cincinnati; Dr. J. V. Bohrer, 229 W. 97th St., New York City; David M. Cooper, Lisbon; Paul B. Kerr, Hicksville; Ora C. Lively Harshbarger, Jackson; A. E. Livingston, 1862 Ingleside Terrace, Washington, D. C.; Dr. C. O. Melick, 5557 Drexel Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Charles G. Stewart, Cleveland; Harley A. Tuttle, Tippecanoe; Prof. C. O. Williamson, Wooster; Cecil C. Bean, Campus Club, 112 Church St., Minneapolis, Minn.; Hamilton L. Cash, Girard; Ernestine Cooley, Lynn Haven, Fla.; William E. Grady, Bluefield, W. Va.; Helen A. Johnson Starr, Mt. Sterling; Evan J. Jones, Athens; Frank B. Kurtz, 231 Insurance Exchange Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; Ione Marie Perkins Morse, Emporia, Kans.; Walter O. Allen, 1436 32nd St., Des Moines, Iowa; Horace E. Cromer, Petersburg, Va.; Mary Lee Deputy, Mechanicsburg; Ernest Hammond, Timber Lake, S. D.; Dean John J. Richeson, Athens; Winifred V. Richmond, 473 E. Rich St., Columbus, Ohio.
